Lands held in reserve for serveral years by the State Government are now opened to set there at their actual value.

These reserved lands lie along the eastern or Atlantic Coast, between St. Augustine and Bis-cayne Bay, one-half mile to six miles from the ocean, a arge portion being fa below the ccean, a sige portion being fa below the frest limits.

This is the only eastern section in the United Sintes where it is possible to raise semi-fropical fruit, and where early regetables and fruits can be raised in time to catch the highest Northera prices.

Much of this land is owned by the Piorida Coast Line Causi and Transportation Company, and bears a flue growth of timber, from which large sums may be realized. The section along the Indian River and Lake Worth is well settled, and the land is the most valuable in the State, the cast coast being tapped by four railways, and the rivers along the coast being navigated by steamboats.

Improved transportation facilities and delightful climate (being so near the ocean the air is much more bracing than further inland) make this an excellent opportunity for actual settlers.

The Pyrremon.—The survey steamer Patterson is lying off Mare Island, making preparations for a cruise along the north coast.

REPAIRS TO THE THETIS.—It is expected that the Thetis will go on the dry-dock soon to have her bottom scraped and receive other repairs.

TENDERED HIS RESIGNATION.—Mr. J. M. Barrett of New York, who was detailed as private secretary to General Sherman, has tendered his resignation as a clerk in the Department to the Secretary of War, Movements or the Alert.—The Alert is as much a mystery as ever. If she is going on a cruise her destination, time of departure and present condition are questions which receive no answers from those who ought to know.

ELECTRICITY AT MARE ISLAND.—Within six months the Navy-Yard at Mare Island will be brilliantly lighted by electricity. Considerable progress has been made since the appropriation was made and an army of electricians is engaged in "wirlug" the yard. BILLS STONED.—The President signed to day an act to incorporate the Wasnington and Arlington liaifway of the District of Columbia for the relief H. J. Cheney, and granting right of way to the Jauction City and Fort Riley Street Railway Company into and upon the Fort Riley military reservation in the State of Kansas.

Called on the President.—Among the President's callers to-day were Senators Barbour, Carey, Platt, Allen, ex-Senator McDonald, and Representatives O'Neill, Pennsylvania; Pickler, Heard, Lee, Morrill, Van Shaik, Stravers, Owen, Cheatham, and Yardley, with ex-Representative Evans and other gentlemen of Pennsylvania, and Langston.

sylvania, and Langston.

To Act in Securary Foster's Apsence.—In the expected absence of Secretary Foster the President has redesignated General A. B. Nettleton, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, to act in Secretary Foster's capacity until his return and General Spanishing to act in the absence of both. General Nettleton is still acting as Secretary and will probably hold that post for some little time. The vacancy in the list of Secretaries is expected to be filled in a few weeks. This redesignation is intended to be permanent, and General Nettleton will act in Secretary Fester's place each time the latter is absent.

TRAINING-SHIP FOR THE PACIFIC ST. TRAINISG SHIP FOR THE PACIFIC STATION.—Within a year the chances are that the Pacific mayal station will be supplied with a training-ship for apprentices. Developments show that a bill recommending the old hulk Hartford shall be repaired for that purpose is now in the hands of Congressman McKenna of Calloria. The bill names the sum of $109,000 that the state of $109,000 that the sum of $109,000 that the state of $100,000 t as the amount of the appropriation to relit the Hartford. It will be seconded by Congressman Whitthorne of Tennessee, well known as the projector in Congress of a bill authorizing a national naval reserve. The Hartford is nowlying at Mare

The President's Proposer Terr.—The cruiser San Francisco is laying alongside the dock at Mare Island. During her recent trial trip along the coast it will be remembered her gun carriages were badly damaged, and repairs to them are now under way. The final destination of the cruiser still remains a flaystery. It is surmised, however, that in company with the Charleston she will make a trip up the coast carrying the Presidential party expected to arrive there shortly after Congress adjourns. In preparation for that event she is now on the dry dock and is receiving a thorough overhauling. President Harrison and family may make their expected voyage on the San Francisco, and if the Charleston does not in the meantime go to Chilishe will accompany them.

PROGRESSIVE WOMEN KEEP UP THE THEME AT ALBAUGH'S.

Representative Pickler Comes to the Aid of the Women-Some Able Addresses Senator Carey Gives a Full History of the Fight in Wyoming-The Ses sion Last Night.

The opening of this morning's sessio began with a solo, "Margery," by Miss Meads, which was well received by the audience, not so large a one, however, as has previously greeted the women who are lighting for equal rights.

Mrs. Alice Pickler of South Dakota offered a very beautiful prayer, after which the president, Miss Anthony, an-nounced that the report of the platform committee would be postponed until the evening session.

"The Moral and Political Emergency" was the subject of an address by Mrs. Emma Smith de Voe of South Dakota. She said the women objected to taxation without representation. The gallantry of men was fickle. Mrs. de Voe spoke at some lengthand gave the history of the last campaign in South Dakota.

Mrs. Alice J. Pickler of the same State followed in an address on the same subject; The women of Dakota were grateful for the kind words and more substantial sid offered in the campaign in the State work. The foundation for ultimate success had been laid. Many good men had been converted, and they would stick—there was no backsliding. Twenty-two thousand men in South Dakota had been converted, and they would stay there.

been converted, and they would stay there.

Mr. Henry B. Blackwell of the Woman's Journal, Boston, claimed that the question of woman suffrage was one of right against wrong, and proceeded to give a most interesting account of what had been done in the Dakotas.

Representative Pickler was introduced, and made an address which was loudly applauded.

The time was coming when men would implore women to vote, and he did not think it would be a very great while either.

Five-minute addresses were made by oresidents of the State associations as folpresidents of the State associations as fol-lows:

Last Night's Session.

Last Night's Session. Last night's session was what some of the women termed a love feast and praise service. The ball was set in motion by Miss Anthony, who introduced Senator

Miss Anthony, who introduced Senator Carey of Wyoming in a neal manner, saying that he represented a State the women were all proud of, it was a grand and glorious State, and Senator Carey was an honor to the State and to himself.

Senator Carey said he was only too glad to be with the ladies of the convention, and was proud that he represented a State where the men were willing to accord full justice to women, and he saw no reason why they should be denied a part in the administration of the Government. He said that in Wyoming they took full part in political conventions, and no one wanted this privilege taken from them. Women held political positions and there had been no defalcations. The right of suffrage should be given the women of every State. This was a question which must be considered by the people of America. Senator Carey said that politics does not corrupt men, but men corrupt politics. His address was a strong our must be considered by the people of America. Senator Carey said that polities does not carrupt men, but men corrupt politics. His address was a strong one, and the applause was frequent. A basket of beautiful roses was presented to him at the conclusion of the address.

A memorial of greeting to Congress, addressed to the women of Wyoming, was read by Miss Balgarine, England's accredited delegate here. The memorial said that the status of the women of a nation is the measure of the progress attained by the men of that nation, and that the men and women of Wyoming, standing in the full right of citizenship, irrespective of sex, commanded the highest respect and gratitude of all civilized nations. The enfranchisement of the women of the State of Wyoming was but a step to the enfranchisement of the women of all other States and nations.

The memorial was signed by the Central National Society for Woman's Suffrage, the Woman's Franchise Leagues of Edinburgh, tlasgow Bedford, Bridport, Leicester, Nottingham and York, the Bristol Woman's Temperance Association, the International Arbitration and Peace Society, the Woman Serieral Association of Great Britain, and the principal of Songryille Hall, Oxford.

A framed memorial was presented from the Woman's Franchise League of London.

"The right of a citizen to trial by a jury of his peers," was the subject of a paper by Mrs. Lillie Devereux Blake of New York. The lady claimed that a colored man tried by a white jury was not right, and that a women tried by a jury of men was unjust. Ferninine influence was needed in the court room as well as the home.

needed in the court room as well as the home.

Mrs. Lide Meriwether of Tennessee made an address on "The Silent Seven." sie said there were seven classes not allewed to vote—minors, aliens, paupers, criminals, inuatics, idiots and women. Her remarks were of a humorous nature. The last address was by Rev. Anna Shaw, on "Indians vs. Women."

She said in the campaign in South Dakota last fall the status of Indians and women was considered. Much was said against the women voting, but nothing against the Indians. Forty-live per cent. of the voters were in favor of conferring the right of franchise on the Indians and but thirty-seven per cent. in favor of women.

Dr. McBlair's Nomination. The President yesterday afternoon sent to the Senate the nomination of Henry W. McBlair to be a First Lieutenant of

W. McIllair to be a First Lieutenant of Infantry.

Mr. McBlair is a resident of this city. Years ago be was dismissed from the Army. President Lincoln reinstated him, and then he was placed upon the retired list. He was on the retired list twenty years, and one day he filed a petition with the Court of Claims for longevity pay.

The court heard the case carefully and then decided that Mr. McIllair was not only not entitled to longevity pay but that he was not in fact an officer by reason of the fact that the Senate had falled to confirm his memination. Eleutenant MeBlair has been knocking at the door of Cangress for a good many years for justice and finally gets it at the hands of President Harrison.

The Forty-ninth Congress passed an act for the relief of Lieutenant McBlair but Cleveland vetoed it.

A Wreck on a New York Road Results in Loss of Life.
Burralo, N. Y., Feb. 28.—A bad wreck occurred on the Eric road at East Buffalo last evening in which one man was killed lest evening in which one man was killed and six others badly injured. The man who lost his life was John Bottonely, a brakeman. The two men who were most injured were Engineer Malony of the Erie and Engineer Dietrich of the Lehigh Valley. None of the passengers were hurt. The accident was caused by a collision between the Lehigh Valley express train from New York and a wildeat freight on the Erie bound for Black Rock. Bottonely leaves a widow and one child whoreside here.

James Ryan, an engineer of the Lehigh Valley, happened to be on Dietrich's engine at the time of the accident, and was badly hurt. J. J. Mauning, the fireman of the Lehigh Valley engine, was internally injured probably. Earl Vader, a helper on the Lehigh Valley engine, and W. Caine, an Erie fireman, were also hurt. Caine was the only one of the six injured men who was not perfectly helpless. The accident was caused by a misplaced switch.

A GIRL BORGIA.

ministered arsenic to the members of her father's family, from the effects of which her brother Arthur, aged 5, has died and other members of the family have been made very ill, Pearl alone having suffered no effect of the poisoning.

No motive is directly given for the girl to commit the crime unless one can be imagined by certain reports that Pearl has intimated that Mr. Lecourt is not her own father.

A drug clerk in Chelsea, upon being confronted with the girl, positively stated that she had twice visited his store and purchased arsenic before the family was taken sick and once since.

A chemical analysis of the stomach of the boy and of certain articles used about the liouse is being made and some important developments may result. At present the remaining members, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Lecourt and two children, are rapidly recovering.

SENATOR M'PHERSON ROBBED.

Valuable Jewelry Stolen While the Family Were at Dinner. Last evening the house of Senator Me-Pherson, No. 1014 Vermont avenue, was entered and jewelry valued at $1,400 stolen. The larceny is presumed to have been committed while the family were at dia committed while the family were at dia-ner and it is supposed to have been done by a "second-story thief." The jewelry was taken from the sleeping apartment of Mrs. McPherson and consisted of a valuable diamond brooche and pair of earrings, also some finger rings. The brooche and ear drops were prized very highly by the family as heir-looms. The jewelry was inseed soon after dinner, and was immediately re-ported to the Police Department, and the case is being thoroughly investigated.

CRIMINAL CAREER CHECKED.

Sent to Jail and Held for the Action of the Grand Jury William Morris, alias William Scott, the colored man who carried on a wholesale housebreaking and petit larceny business, was tried in the Police Court business, was tried in the Folice Court this morning on seven different charges. They were all clearly proven and Judge Miller sent Morris to jail for one year for the petit larceny charges and required him to furnish a bond of $2,000 for ap-pearance before the grand jury in the other cases.

last night and within it presented an animated scene.

It was the occasion of the eighth annual gymnasium exhibition by the students of the college and though not a great many persons went out from the city, apparently on account of the severe weather, the gallery of the main hall and the rear portion was comfortably crowded, ladies being in the majority. The entertainment was one calculated to please and very creditable to those taking part so well.

Owing to the large number of students at this institution physical development through regular and systematic exercise has been resorted to by the faculty as a most important adjunct to the training given and for this purpose a special act of Congress appropriating $15,000, or thereabouts, provided this institution with what the boystake pride in saying is the finest gymnasium south of New York. It was erected about ten years ago under the supervision of Dr. Sargeant of Harvard and, besides being furnished and fitted with all the modern machines, apparatus and appurtanences, it contains a natatorium, baths and bowling alleys.

The dumbell drill, chestweight exercise in cencert and a general round on the machines, is as regular and commissory torium, baths and bowling alleys.

The dumbell drill, chestweight exercise in ceneert, and a general round on the machines, is as regular and compulsory as recitations, and directed by an instructor. Records of progress and improvement are kept, and these, the faculty say, have had better results than was ever anticipated.

Last night's exercises began with the students—forty-five in number and clad in a handsome blue gymnasiom uniform comprising a jersey bordered on the breast with class numerals, knee pants, hose, belt and canvas shoes—marching around the hall and then forming in platoons, saluting. The dumb-bell mannal followed, led by Beadel, '91, who as captain of the company wore a buff sash. This was a very creditable performance, and the marching in the next, forming the letters 'N. D. M. C.' at its close, was especially taking with the spectators.

Next came chestweights in concert, by two classes of eight cach; then the vauling of the horizontal bar, the main feature being standing, clutching the bar and clearing a cord a few feet distant. Holts, '94, cleared this at ninety inches, or seven and one half feet; considered an excellent performance. About twenty took part in vaulting the horse, and five performed on the parallels, Beadie leading and Hosterman, '95, coming in for second honors.

The seventh number of the programme was the class tug of war, Taylor, Round, Dimick and Long representing '92: Brown, Stewart, Odon and Rives, '93: Divine, Ryan, Drought and Holtz, '94, and Wilson, Kiene, Williams and Cowan.'96.

Enter the company was and live performance of the programme was the class tug of war, Taylor, Round, Dimick and Long representing '92: Brown, Stewart, Odon and Rives, '93: Divine, Ryan, Drought and Holtz, '94, and Wilson, Kiene, Williams and Cowan.'96.

This was followed by club swinging by Scaton, '85, and Allard, '91, an excellent swing: Taylor, '92, and Prout, '94, tried the long jump: Messrs, Lange, Stewart and Allard performed on the rings, and Taylor, De Long and Wright on the ladders. Then came the final tug of war.

After some floor gymnastics, pyramids, etc. President Gallaudet announced the honors, complimenting each man and the students in general for the night's performance, saying it was gratifying and fully satisfactory to the faculty of the institution.

They Quarreled Over a Mau wore out a warrant before Justice O'Neil charging Mary Campbell, another colored woman, with threats. Yesterday Mary woman, with threats. Yesterlay Mary was arrested and in the Police Court this merning Sarah told Judge Miller that the Campbell woman had threatened to shoot and cut her on Christmas day. "What man were you quarreling over?" asked Judge Miller. "Loe Forbes," was the answer. "Then the case is dismissed," said his Honor.

HUSTON'S SUCCESSOR

MAY BE NOMINATED TO-DAY, AND

The Resignation Tendered and Verballs Accepted by the President, but Mr. Lemcke Wants to Go to Europe for His Health, and the Present Incum bent May Be Induced to Hold On for a

The situation in regard to Treasucer Huston and his now celebrated resignaion, and the appointment as his success of ex-State Treasurer of Indiana J. A. Lemeke, is just this, as learned from an Indiana official who had it from the President himself: President himself:

When Trensurer Huston went to the President last Tuesday, once again to talk resignation, he fully expected the President would insist on his remaining in office, and he was ready to remain. The President, however, happened that morning to be in no frame of mind, so he said

"Huston, if you want to resign I will accept your resignation."

Huston was surprised, but against such an emergency he had prepared his resignation, which he had in his pocket. There was nothing to do except to draw it forth and hand it to his chief. This he did. The President took it and threw it down on the table without reading it with the remark: mark:

on the table without reading it with the remark:

"I-accept it."
Mr. Huston turned on his heel and left the room.

Right there the matter rests as between the President and Mr. Huston.

After Mr. Huston had departed the President sent for Marshal Dan Ransdell and sent him to New York, where Mr. Lemcke was preparing to sail for Europe. Daniel insimuatingly locked arms with the ex-State Treasurer and confided to him the flattering fact that the President of the United States wanted him totake Huston's place. Mr. Lemcke came here as Marshal Ransdell's guest and saw the President.

The President told him that Mr. Huston seemed bent on resigning, and he (the President) wanted him (Lemcke) to take the Treasurership. Mr. Lemcke expressed his gratification in fitting terms and then told the President he (Lemcke) was suffering from rheumatic gout and his proposed trip to Europe was in search of health. After falking the matter over fully the President told Mr. Lemcke to return to New York and he would see what could be done; that, if he found it necessary, he would send his name into the Senate. It was thought possible to have Mr. Huston remain where he is, if necessary, for two or three months, so that Mr. Lemcke can make his health trip to Europe.

Mr. Lemcke has accepted the place, but verbally.

Mr. Lemcke has accepted the place, but whiling and the President has accepted verbally.

Mr. Lemeke has accepted the place, but wants the office so arranged that he can make his trip to Europe, and the President is agreeable to this.

So Mr. Lemeke may be nominated to-day and he may not be nominated for three months.

MR. LEMCKE'S VERSION.

He Has Been Tendered the Treasurer-ship and Will Accept. New Yors, Feb. 28.—J. A. Lemcke, former State Treasurer of Indiana, arrived here last night from Washington He freely admitted that he had been offered the position of United States Treasurer, but he has not yet decided to accept it,

"I have been with the President most of the afternoon," said be, "conversing upon the treasurership question. The President has not yet accepted Mr. Huston's resignation, and I have not yet been appointed. Mr. Harrison will, however, offer me the office if he accepts Mr. Huston's resignation. That was the cause of my t accept or not. I have already made arrangements for a trip abroad with my

The Katser Wants a Change in Ger-many's Affitude Toward France. LONDON, Feb. 28.—A Berlin dispatch says that the Katser has determined to effect an entire change in the attitude of Germany toward France. There will be no more attempt at conciliation and while there is no ground for hostility the relations maintained will be those of re-serve and rigid formality. The proposed relaxation of passport regulations in Al-sace-Lorraine has already been withdrawn and the French visitor to the Reichsland will find himself under the same odious espionage that has been so irritating in the past. The commanders of the front-ier fortresses have been ordered to increase their vigilance and all suspicious strangers are to be arrested, especially those who may be found with photographic apparatus in the vicinity of fortified places. The Emperor is said to largely blame Count Von Munster for the failure of the Empress' visit. This failure he feels most keenly, as he had gone far personally to make the mission a success, and the result is the first robuff he has met since ascending the throne. The Emperor intends for this reason, it is reported, to recall Von Munster and put some one in his place who will be more assertive of German dignity and more successful in carrying out the imperial wishes. Manster, it is understood, was Bismarck's selection for the post, and the Kaiser has never treated him with entire confidence. It is thought that either the Prince Reuss, new Ambassador at Vienna, or the Count Waldersce will get the appointment to Paris. Waldersce will give the Countess a chance to figure in society, as the Countess has already intimated that her husband will soon retire from the army.

The McCarthyltes are desirous of getting rid of Sir John Pope Hemnessy, as he is on altogether too intimate terms with the Torics to please the Irish cause by his presence here. Hence they are endeavoring to induce him to take a trip to Amstralia and New Zealand with Cox, M. P. in place of T. D. Sullivan, who does not care to go. Hennessy has not yet given a reply to the proposition. He has been a good deal abroad as governor of various savage territories, and one of the Parnellites, O'Kelly, suggested to-day that if the Australian aborigines could contribete to the cause, Hennessy would be the man to send.

A Vienna dispatch says the Austrias bishops have ordered that special prayers be offered up in the churches during mass for a good result of the coming elections. They tell the people to "give their votes to the Catholics as Austria is a Catholic country, and the great majority of its inhabitants are Catholics." The agitation of demagogues among the working classes is pointed to as the source of brotherly love, have become the dominant features of the working population.
